

WESTERLY

The trial of Frank Juliano, who was indicted by the grand jury of the superior court for Washington county, has been postponed to the April session. Juliano has a farm in Laurel Glen, North Stonington, and is charged with assaulting with intent to kill John Hureau, a former employee, at Westerly on November 20. It is alleged that Juliano shot Hureau in the head while in a barn in Canal street, Westerly, in the rear of the home of Tony Fiore. Juliano was arrested by Police Chief Thomas E. Brown soon after the shooting. Hureau was not seriously wounded, the bullet passing through the front of his cap and making a furrow on the top of his head and then going through the top of the cap. When released after indictment, Juliano pleaded not guilty, and was held under the same bond, $2,000, required after the hearing in the Third District court, at Westerly.

The trial was postponed by reason of John J. Ferguson, counsel for Juliano is one of Westerly's representatives in the general assembly, and he could not abandon his legislative duties for judicial service. Representatives are recommended $5 per diem and cash mileage, which nets the Westerly delegates about $3 a day each.

In the action of Katherine Hoyt vs. the Westerly Automatic Telephone company, the defendant company was ordered to pay the plaintiff $10 a week for a period of 300 weeks and $200 funeral expenses. This action was brought on the death of Edward Hoyt who was electrocuted while at work on a pole at the Pleasant View turn-out near Masturd Brook, in May, 1919.

In the case of Myron E. Plimpton vs. J. De Vere Barber, a demurrer was heard and held that the third demurrer to be entered in this case.

The divorce docket was taken up and the following cases were disposed of: Rose M. Reale Neils vs. Charles B. Neils. Heard on dispositive. Granted on grounds of non-support and neglect to provide. Petitioner allowed to resume her maiden name. Ada E. B. Dubuque vs. Archie Dubuque. Heard on dispositive. Granted on grounds of extreme cruelty and neglect to provide. Petitioner given custody of child.

BALTIMORE

The Men's League of the Baltic M. E. church met Monday evening in the vestry of the church, about 30 being present. In the absence of the president, Rev. Charles Smith, the vice president, George T. Bell, occupied the chair. Mr. Frank of Franklin was scheduled as the speaker of the evening, but owing to the inconvenience of travel he could not be present. An informal program consisting of songs and piano solos was enjoyed. The chairman gave an interesting talk on Practical Christianity, after which songs were sung by Sam Johnson, John Andrews, Joshua Taylor, Matthew Bailey, George T. Bell and Joshua Heaps. Miss Lillian Stafford was the accompanist of the evening. Sandwiches and coffee were served by the refreshment committee, after which a short business session was held to hear the report by the committee of the annual English tea party which is to be held in the near future. Charles Barnes, chairman of that committee, reported that the tea party would be run this year without the soliciting of provisions as in the past years. Secretary Chadwick said for the most part the food would be homemade.

The Center Grammar school was closed last week on account of the illness of the teacher, M. H. Viner. Miss Bertha Porter went to East Berlin Saturday, called there by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings.

Most of the people in town who have been ill are recovering, and no new cases reported.

The school nurse, Miss Colby, of Hartford, was in town last week visiting some of the schools, making her headquarters with Mrs. W. O. Seyma.

W. H. Everts of Middletown was in town Wednesday.

The Center Grammar school opened Monday morning, with Miss Helen Foss, of Glastonbury, substituting teacher for a week.

Friends of Miss Florence Smith are pleased to know that she has recovered from her recent illness and is able to return to her home.

EAST WOODSTOCK

S. H. Peckham and family and Miss Eleanor Linderman have been in the past week with influenza.

L. H. Linderman was in Hartford several days last week, attending the Farmers' show at the armory.

J. E. Aldrich, who has been at the Stephen Morse farm for the past 20 years, has decided not to renew his lease and will probably buy a place in this village before the first of April.

The church was again closed Sunday, the roads not being broken open sufficiently for traffic.

Allen Upham of Boston spent the week end at his home here.

The school at Elmville is closed owing to the illness of the teacher, Miss Linderman, and eleven of her pupils.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in reality the result of an acid condition of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

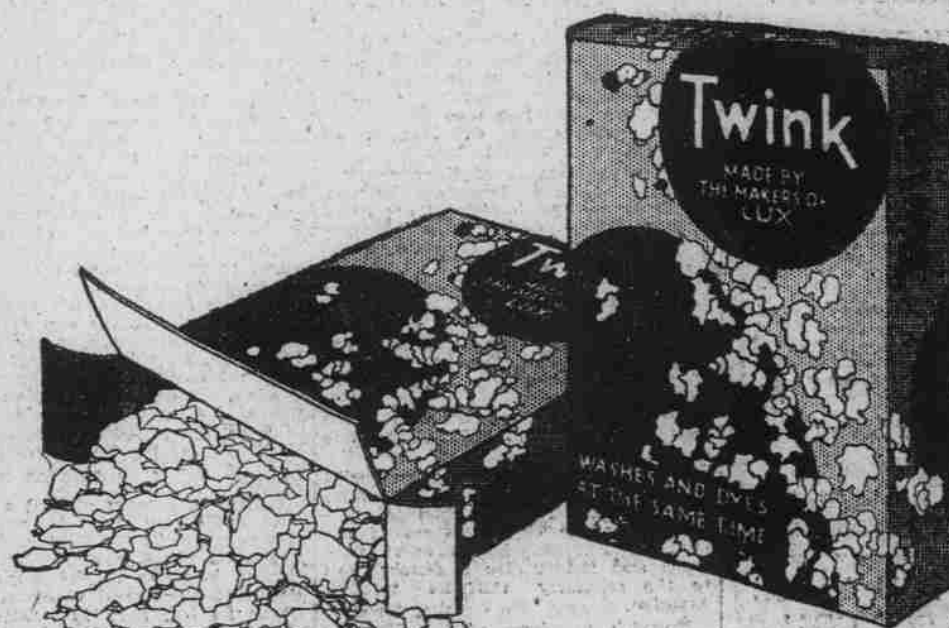

To stop or prevent this action of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of dissolved Twink is a good and effective corrector of acid stomach.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach.
